

21st April 2023 – 22nd April 2023 - Logs of a typical weekend

1:00 people knock on next doors door, they let dog bark for about 5 minutes first and ignore it, they then talked extremely loudly in a group outside of our flat waking up everyone inside. the conversation goes on for about half hour and then they all go upstairs and are extremely loud, shouting and stomping all over the place.

2:00 still banging, stomping and shouting to each other upstairs (called WDH Helpline to update our complaint and request an update on the one we logged)

3:30 getting louder and probably drunker up there, even the TV can't cover up their noise.

3:50 banging and running

4:10 Talking to people (Shouting)

3:55 stomping around

4:14 first bit of peace and quiet all night, lucy's almost in tears from the stress and I'm having big painful heart beats from both stress and knowing I can't do anything about it and we have to wait. (edit: still waiting over a year later)

4:30 talking and laughing (not as loud as before)

4:35 loud talking & walking & shouting

4:36 house shaking stomp walking

4:37 more loud talking & wooooooooing (shouting woooooo, often days)

5:10 banging & running on stairs (possible people leaving)

5:13 huge door slam and huge banging upstairs, shook house again and scared our Guinea pig so much he squeaked & buried his head shaking, had to get him out to pet better.

6:00 finally going quite again, sleep re-attempted for 30th time

12:30 slept through alarms again thanks to upstairs being so noisy last night, another day of voluntary work missed

Loud stomping around throughout the entire day until 7:00pm when someone left, there was someone still up there we could hear after that but they were being reasonably quite in comparison, however at midnight a different person to the one who left earlier in a grey hoodie went up there, and has been banging ever since (details below)

00:15 someone went in loudly and then started playing with the dog, at 0:20 they stomped all over the place and shake the house again and continued until 00:30, as we have told them in the past we have family over on Saturday, and they have now gone home because they can't even concentrate on their computers so The'll have no chance of getting any sleep.

1:00 loud talking

1:10 banging and stomping down stairs, dog barking and yelping several times in a row, door slamming and lots of stomping

1:15 Banging repeatably like punching floor

1:18 Called WDH to log another noise complaint after more chest pains from the noise.

1:24 stomping

1:27 fast banging (probably running)

1:28 loud bang like something thrown at floor

1:29 door slam – shouting

1:30 stomping around

1:31 running upstairs, loud stomping around

1:33 Stomping all over the place shaking things around down here

1:39 shouting, stomping and running

2:00 first bit of quite all day (lasted 10 minutes)

2:11 walking around but at a more reasonable volume

2:37 stomping

3:23 loud bang

3:24 banging

4:00 finally got quite again so attempting to go back to bed. but after just 5 - 10 minutes of that someone was banging on there front door loudly, and the dog was running up and down stairs barking as loud as it could, this went on for an entire 30 - 40 minutes whilst the people upstairs talked & laughed amongst themselves before they finally snook downstairs to see who was there and then answered the door, and then they talked loudly at the bottom of the stairs for another 30 minutes, we wouldn't even cover the noise up with our bedroom TV

5:00 lots of walking around but we're tired from not having any sleep lately we got to sleep anyway, however as always here we were woken up randomly throughout the sleep.

Next day mostly quite apart from the odd loud walking around.

11:00 stomping around and banging

11:20 playing with dog

00:30 Walking around and playing with dog

4:54 banging

00:45 walking round

00:55 banging

1:00 stomping then hammering sound

1:05 loud walking

<between: walking around with dog but not too noisy>

1:44 loud walking

2:05 playing with dog

6:00 lots of walking around

Lots of walking around most of day but as bad as usual but still annoying after a few hours of banging.

15:00 very loud walking around and loud talking on phone, heard over TV